Step back in time and enjoy a private evening surrounded by the beautifully restored Georgian interiors. Led by an expert historian, start your evening with a drinks reception and an introduction to Handel's life, work, and art collection. Follow the reception with a sit-down dinner in the banqueting room before retiring to the concert room - the very room in which Handel himself performed. Here you will be given a private harpsichord performance by one of the UK's leading harpsichordists.

For a special and exclusive dinner, walk the corridors that Jane walked and dine in the room she would have dined in with her family. Start with drinks in Jane's reading room, followed by a talk by a Jane Austen specialist and dinner in the Monsieur Halavant's Pantry.

Immersed in this environment, you will learn about artists such as Van Gogh, Cezanne, and Monet, and how they broke the rules to innovate and propel painting into a modern world.

While enjoying your introduction to these ground-breaking visionaries, your guests will be treated to an absinthe tasting, the artists' favourite tippie.

A PRIVATE EVENING AT LEIGHTON HOUSE

Frederic Lord Leighton's wildly opulent house in Holland Park is an absolute must-see and the perfect place for a private tour or event. A piece of art in its own right, the house vibrates with organic decoration, including an indoor fountain, a sensuous Arab Hall, gold gilded ceilings, stunning Damascene tiles and beautiful drawings and paintings by Leighton and his circle. Start with private drinks in the Arab Hall (pictured), followed by a private talk or tour of this astonishing house, finishing with a musical performance in the famous studio.

TEASER ITINERARY:

A HOGARTH THEMED GIN TASTING

Step off the streets of Soho and be transported to one of the most atmospheric 18th century interiors in town - Blacks Club - complete with creaking floors, crooked steps, evocative lighting and a fabulous collection of Hogarth prints.

After a private view of Hogarth's raucous scenes, we'll spice things up with a lively gin tasting. 18th century gin was a filthy drink consumed in vast quantities, leading to rot and ruin, depicted so famously in Hogarth's Gin Lane. The gin tasting - delivered with a range of classic gin cocktails - will be led by a highly entertaining and engaging gin expert who will talk about the history of gin and why it's had a such a glorious renaissance. Today's gin is considerably more delicious than its previous counterpart!

Group size: 15 - 20 people

Option: stay on for dinner at Blacks Club after the gin tasting

CONFERENCES

Spice up a conference with engaging, imaginative and memorable art and cultural experiences for attendees and spouses/partners.

BREAK-OUT SESSIONS

During a conference, break-out sessions offer attendees the chance to discuss a variety of topics in small groups. This is an opportunity to dive deeper into the subject matter and to network with other attendees who share your interests.

Our brilliant team of experts offer a refreshing take on these break-out sessions by using art and culture to discuss themes important to you. They are the perfect opportunity to nourish the mind and freshen up the attendees for the next session of work.

DAYTIME & EVENING ENTERTAINMENT

Aside from the work that needs to get done, a conference provides a wonderful opportunity for members to explore the host city. For international conferences held in London, ArtscalesUK can entertain spouses and partners while the business is being done.

For daytime entertainment, we offer bespoke tours to museums, galleries, private collections, and hidden houses. For evening events, we organise imaginative and creative drinks and dinners, providing the perfect ending to a productive and stimulating day.
